1. About this Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy explains how National Tutor Supplyuses cookies and similar storage and access technologies when you visit or use our website. It should be read alongside our Privacy Policy.

For the purposes of this policy, references to “cookies” also include comparable technologies that may store information on, or access information from, your device, such as local storage, tracking pixels, scripts, tags and similar technologies where applicable.

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are small data files that websites can place on a computer, smartphone, tablet or other device. They can support essential website functions, remember choices, help website owners understand how a site is used and, where applicable, support advertising or other optional features.

Some cookies operate only for the duration of a browser session, while others remain on a device for a defined period or until they are deleted.

3. The law that applies

Our use of cookies and similar technologies is governed principally by the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003, as amended (PECR). Where their use involves personal data, the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018 may also apply.

Where consent is required, National Tutor Supplywill seek consent before using non-exempt cookies or similar technologies. Technologies that fall within a statutory exception may be used without consent where the legal requirements for that exception are met.

4. Types of cookies we may use

Important: The categories above describe technologies National Tutor Supplymay use. The website's live cookie audit and consent-management platform should be used to identify the exact cookies currently deployed.

5. Cookies currently used on our website

The exact cookies and similar technologies used on www.tutorsupply.net may change as the website is developed or third-party services are added or removed. National Tutor Supplywill maintain an up-to-date record of the technologies deployed.

Where the website's cookie consent tool provides a detailed cookie list, that list should identify, as applicable, the name of the cookie or technology, provider, purpose, category and duration.

6. Third-party services

Some website functions may be supplied by third parties. For example, National Tutor Supplymay use external providers for website hosting, security, analytics, embedded content, forms, maps, video, social media features or advertising. Those providers may use their own storage and access technologies.

Where National Tutor Supplyasks for consent to third-party technologies, relevant third parties should be clearly identified through the cookie consent mechanism or accompanying cookie information. National Tutor Supplywill review third-party tools before deployment and will seek to ensure appropriate contractual and data protection arrangements are in place.

7. Your choices and consent

When you first visit our website, you may be presented with a cookie consent tool. Where consent is required, you should be able to accept or reject non-essential technologies and, where offered, manage individual categories.

Rejecting non-essential cookies should not prevent access to the core website, although some optional features may not function as intended. Continuing to browse the website is not treated as consent to non-essential cookies.

8. Changing or withdrawing your consent

You can change or withdraw your cookie choices at any time using the cookie settings or privacy control made available on the website. It should be as easy to withdraw consent as it is to give it.

You can also control or delete cookies through your browser settings. Browser controls vary between providers and devices. Blocking all cookies may affect website functionality.

9. How long cookies remain on your device

The duration depends on the particular technology. Session cookies normally expire when the browsing session ends, while persistent cookies may remain for a specified period. National Tutor Supplywill not retain or access information for longer than is necessary for the stated purpose and will review retention periods as part of its cookie audits.

10. Children

National Tutor Supplyprovides education-related services and recognises that children and young people may interact with its services. We take particular care when selecting technologies used on pages or services likely to be accessed by children. We do not intend to use website technologies to profile children for behavioural advertising.

11. Keeping our use of cookies under review

National Tutor Supplywill periodically audit the website's cookies and similar technologies, including those provided by third parties. We may update this policy where technologies, providers, purposes or legal requirements change. The effective date at the top of this policy will be updated when material changes are made.

12. Contact us

If you have questions about this Cookie Policy, the technologies used on the National Tutor Supplywebsite or your privacy choices, please contact National Tutor Supplyusing the contact details published on our website.

Website implementation checklist

This section is for Tutor Supply's internal implementation and should be removed before publishing the policy.

- Run a cookie/technology scan on the live website after the rebuild is complete.
- Populate the consent platform with the exact cookie/technology name, provider, purpose and duration.
- Do not load non-exempt analytics, marketing or other non-essential technologies before the required consent is obtained.
- Make 'Reject' as accessible as 'Accept' where consent is requested, and provide granular controls where appropriate.
- Provide a persistent 'Cookie Settings' or equivalent control so users can change or withdraw consent.
- Check embedded YouTube/video, Google services, maps, social media widgets, chat tools, analytics, advertising pixels and form plugins for third-party technologies.
- Ensure the Privacy Policy and Cookie Policy cross-reference each other consistently.
- Repeat the audit whenever plugins, analytics, advertising, embedded services or the website platform materially change.
